

About Us

Parramatta/Holroyd Family Support Inc. is a free service that provides support and assistance to families of all types and cultural backgrounds, who have dependent children up to the age of 12 years.

We believe that families have their own strengths. We aim to assist families in developing those strengths and to support the parent-child relationship.

Our aim is to support families to encourage and develop positive relationships within families, and to promote environments which value, nurture and protect children.

We work with families through the different and sometimes difficult stages, as well as offer families strategies and various programs.

- Adoption Support Group

For details about the groups we are currently running, give us a call or check out our website.

Childcare and transport are available for some groups.

Groups are free or cost just a gold coin donation each week.

We are a member of NSW Family Services Inc.

How can a family access the service?

To request support for yourself or someone else, simply call our centre and talk to a staff member. We will ask for the family's details, and the reasons that you are requesting support.

Anyone may make a referral, but the client must be aware and have given consent for the referral to be made.

What happens next?

After a referral has been taken, a Child and Family Worker will ring the family and organise a time to meet with them. The worker will explain more about our service and talk further with the family about their situation and what service is appropriate for them.
